2015 Report to the Community
The Daniels Fund is a private charitable foundation dedicated to making life better for the people of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming through our Grants Program, Scholarship Program, and Ethics Initiative. We continue the legacy of generosity established by our founder, Bill Daniels, a cable television pioneer known for his compassion for those in need and his unwavering commitment to ethics and integrity.

Daniels Fund Grants Program
We provide grants to support highly effective nonprofit organizations in our four-state region, as well as some programs with national impact. Each year, approximately 70% of our community investments are made through the Daniels Fund Grants Program in funding areas defined by Bill Daniels:

- Aging
- Alcoholism & Substance Abuse
- Amateur Sports
- Disabilities
- Early Childhood Education
- Homeless & Disadvantaged
- K-12 Education Reform
- Youth Development

Daniels Fund Scholarship Program
Our Scholarship Program, which includes the Daniels Scholarship Program and the Boundless Opportunity Scholarship Program, represents approximately 30% of the Daniels Fund’s annual charitable spending. The Daniels Scholarship Program provides four-year college scholarships for graduating high school seniors who demonstrate exceptional character, leadership, and a commitment to serving their communities. The Boundless Opportunity Scholarship Program provides college scholarships for non-traditional students of all ages, awarded by select colleges and universities using funds provided by the Daniels Fund.

Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative
The Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative strives to deliver principle-based ethics education, and reinforce the value of ethical business and personal conduct. The Ethics Initiative encompasses three components — the Collegiate Program, the High School Program, and the online Case Bank — each with a specific approach and target audience. Funding for the Ethics Initiative is provided through the Grants Program.

Dear friends,

As our founder Bill Daniels was hard at work crafting plans for the Daniels Fund, he shared a dream that motivated him — someday there would be 1,000 Daniels Scholars in college.

What a testament to Bill’s vision that, after only 15 years, more than 1,500 Daniels Scholars are now college graduates.

Milestones like this remind us to stop and reflect on how we as an organization are performing according to the direction and vision of our founder.

In our Grants Program, Bill directed us to make life better in the four states he loved. To best accomplish this, we now follow a state-by-state strategic approach that looks at the unique community needs and challenges in each geography. While we’re relatively early in this long-term approach, the results so far have been promising.

In the Scholarship Program, Bill wanted to equip college graduates to become productive and contributing members of society. We’re delighted to see the many ways Daniels Scholar Alumni are benefiting their communities through character, leadership, and service.

Bill wanted young people to understand the importance of ethics in business and in life, and that’s why we created the Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative in 2009. The Ethics Initiative has proven so successful that we expanded it in 2015 and look forward to continuing to fuel the ethics movement in our four states.

It’s no secret that honoring our donor’s direction is at the core of who we are. We’ve worked hard putting tools and resources in place to help future Daniels Fund board and staff make decisions that reflect Bill’s values and intent.

Thank you for being a part of our first 15 years. We’re excited about continuing our work together to make an even greater difference in the years to come.

We continue to evolve the Daniels Fund Grants Program to achieve the greatest impact. With donor intent as our foundation, we pay close attention to unique geographic needs, as well as local and national trends.

In 2013, we launched a deliberate effort to better understand the challenges and opportunities in Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming. As a result, we began revising our grantmaking strategies state-by-state to maximize the limited pool of grant funding allocated to each geography.

Within each geography, we strategically invest in portfolios of grants, similar to how an investor manages a portfolio of financial investments. We seek to support a combination of highly effective nonprofit organizations whose work complements each other to achieve overarching objectives in each of our funding areas.

Bill Daniels envisioned helping deserving students become both college graduates and productive members of society. He would be proud of the more than 1,500 Daniels Scholar Alumni making a difference today.

See what they are up to and how they are influencing the world around them:

- Daniels Scholar Alumni are employed in, and making their mark on, a vast array of industries
- They are highly sought after by employers for their character, leadership, and service qualities
- They earn approximately 16% more and put twice as much of their income into savings than their college-educated peers

- 70% are registered to vote
- 64% are very engaged in their community
- 32% are interested in running for local elected office
- Daniels Scholars make nearly 75% more charitable contributions than their peers

- 83% consider themselves to be a leader
- 54% serve as leaders on work-related committees and activities
- 55% manage other employees
- Daniels Scholars assume volunteer leadership roles 11% more than their peers

Intentional strategies support progress toward scholarship objectives

We continue to evolve the Daniels Scholarship Program to achieve Bill Daniels’ objectives. Our goals are about more than providing financial support to attend college — we are focused on creating productive and contributing citizens.

Progressing toward our graduation goal

Our goal is that 75% of all Daniels Scholars graduate within the four years of funding we provide. We offer tools and support to help them stay on track.

Helping Daniels Scholars graduate debt free

Educational debt often becomes a barrier to graduation, and we strive to help Daniels Scholars graduate without it. Four-year graduation is one way. Another is through partnerships with colleges and universities. After learning that some Daniels Scholars were taking on debt to cover the federally determined family contribution, we formed partnerships with dozens of schools to remove this burden for Daniels Scholars.

Boundless Opportunity Scholarships: 5,000+ non-traditional students creating better lives

The Boundless Opportunity Scholarship first started as a temporary program in 2003. It quickly became permanent after we saw its impact on helping non-traditional students achieve their educational goals and create better lives for themselves and their families. This scholarship remains one of the few funding resources available for non-traditional students.

Since inception:
- $13.8 million in scholarship grants awarded
- 62 higher education institutions have received grants for scholarships
- 5,128 students awarded scholarships

Ethics and integrity were hallmarks of Bill Daniels’ way of living and conducting business.

It is not surprising that when he established the Daniels Fund, he directed support for programs that teach these principles. Yet, 15 years ago when we first started, we received very few requests for ethics funding, despite the clear and urgent need for education in this area. To honor Bill’s intent, we created a program from the ground up — the Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative.

What started as a 5-year pilot is now a thriving program that continues to expand and is drawing national attention. An ethics movement is spreading as hundreds of thousands of individuals on university campuses gain relevant experience with principle-based ethics, and those ethical tenets make their way into communities and businesses throughout our four states.

This is exactly the kind of impact Bill wanted to achieve.

Ethics Initiative expansion in 2015:

- Five more years (2015 to 2019).
- Expanded from 8 to 11 schools with the addition of Colorado Mesa University, University of Colorado Denver, and the University of Colorado Law School.
- The new online Case Bank offers an array of ethical business cases for educational purposes.
- The new High School Program seeks to teach ethics to younger students. This 5-year, $1.5 million project has a potential reach of 250,000 students.
- Our objective remains the same: active engagement of students that reinforces the value of ethical business and personal conduct.

In 2015, we completed a multi-year effort to document and preserve the life and legacy of Bill Daniels. The resulting collection includes a searchable archive containing thousands of Bill Daniels’ letters, as well as numerous videos and a book — all of which capture deep knowledge about his intent, values, and principles.

We believe this collection of resources is critical to ensuring our founder’s wishes are understood and honored, now and forever.

Honesty is of utmost importance to any man, and I want to tell you a little story. I moved to Casper, Wyoming in 1952. I had $2,000 to my name. I opened an insurance agency and struggled for three years working on the insurance company’s money, always paying my bills, when one of the insurance companies that I represented went broke. Two weeks after the company took bankruptcy, one of my clients to whom I had sold a liability policy, was sued by the Burlington Railroad for $12,500, and a judgment entered against my client in the amount of $11,000. I made a deal with the Burlington Railroad to pay this judgement off at $500.00 per month, over a 22 month period. I did not have to do this, but I had a strong conviction that I owed this to my insured, who had placed his faith in my handling his insurance business. During this time, the $500.00 payment was more per month than I was making. I managed, however, through borrowing and juggling of finances to do this.

I thank both of you for your nice letter. It’s nice to hear from you and my little buddy, Will. At Will’s age, he will not absorb the value of a college education, but as he gets older, he will understand how important it is to have young people go to college.

Will, you are my pal. Take advantage of the future out there in front of you. Admission to a good college or university requires good grades. So your old pal, Bill, wants you to know that the better your grades are, the better the university you will enter. One of these days I hope to see you again. Be a good guy and make your family proud.
In August 2015, the Daniels Fund Board of Directors hosted their annual community reception — this time in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The location rotates among communities within our four states to give board and community members an opportunity to spend time together. Our board members welcomed grantees, community leaders, government officials, and Daniels Scholars to learn more about the region’s opportunities and challenges.
